

Postgraduate Certificate in Coaching for Leadership

This Postgraduate Certificate is built around the concept of continuing professional development to meet leaders' responsibilities through coaching. Therefore, the content is personally centred on you and is progressive, linking subject matter, theory and practice. Assessment is carried out through assignments, critical reflection and an e-portfolio.

Who is this qualification for?

This postgraduate qualification is designed for senior managers who want to develop their expertise and credibility in the field of coaching as part of increasing their abilities as a leader. It may also appeal to those seeking to establish internal coaching at an organisational level.

Three face to face modules are supported by on-line blended learning and the establishment of an e-portfolio which forms part of the assessment.
